SIMMS Apparel Inventory Software - your matrix of color, size and style. In today's apparel market, retailers and consumers push for lower prices, better quality and quicker delivery. To stay ahead, the apparel industry has responded with technology, innovative systems and information. KCSI meets these challenges with our leading edge SIMMS Apparel Inventory Software solutions that will help you compete and grow profitably today and in the future.

Effectively manage apparel and footwear styles using one item number with multiple color and size labels. With the Apparel Matrix Inventory feature Color and size labels may include National Retail Foundation (NRF) codes. Once defined, color and size labels may be grouped to form color cards and size charts that, in turn, may be used to create matrix templates. Templates, groups and labels may then be assigned and tailored to meet individual inventory items, after which all quantities associated with that item will be tracked by color/size/style. This feature combined with several others makes SIMMS Apparel/ Embroidery software the best fit for any apparel related industry.

Assign your apparel and footwear style/color and size combinations their own unique cost and price

You can assign your apparel items a different Cost and Price for every style, color and size combination thereby enabling SIMMS the power to reflect the appropriate Cost and Price for each item with its related style, size and color combination within your purchasing and sales documents.
